AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Applicant's last Office Action response entered on 12/23/02 contained the wrong title at the top of the front page. A previous amendment in this application made on 06-28-01, changed the Title to "Wireless Handset Communication System". In case the Office missed that amendment, Applicant wherein submits the amendment herein again. Please amend the Title to: WIRELESS HANDSET COMMUNICATION SYSTEM.

Also, on page 4, lines 9 -14, delete the word "the" as shown below:

Another object of this invention involves hardware and program software to control cellular or PCS communications, combined with a light weight mobile notebook or PDA like unit . The unit or system would act as a computing platform and base communications relay station. The system or unit may then relay voice and data to/from a handset unit or earset unit, where the base unit relays ~~the~~-this voice and data information to/from a wide area communication network.
